Educated* by Tara Westover

- Read Educated by Tara Westover in its entirety + annotate as you read. You may annotate in a notebook, by writing in your book (as long as you purchased your own book), using sticky notes, or by creating a dialectical journal. (The information for a dialectical journal is posted on Google Classroom.)
- Write a reflection addressing the portrayal and effect of at least one of the following topics found in the novel: learning and education, independence, loyalty, family, pride, and religion.
- Be prepared to discuss this book and take an assessment upon your return to academics.

*We will be working with this novel for the first cycle of the school year. If you neglect the summer assignment, you will be significantly behind at the very start of the school year. Please come prepared with the novel read and annotated.

All work must be submitted via Google Classroom no later than August 31, 2022 at 7:45 AM.

If you have any questions during the summer, please email me at tcollins@dimanregional.org. Include your first and last name in the body of your email and use HONORS 11 as the subject of your email. Please remember that I do not check my email every day during the summer, but I will check it at least once per week and I will respond to you. If you do not hear from me within a week, please send me another email.

Read as much as you can over the summer! Read articles, newspapers, magazines, books, graphic novels, and/or memoirs. Read, Read, Read!

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

Diman Regional expects all students to conform to the standards of academic integrity established herein by the school district.

Academic dishonesty – including plagiarism, cheating or copying the work of another, using technology (computers, mobile devices, applications, services, etc.) for illicit purposes, or any unauthorized communication between students for the purpose of gaining advantage during an examination – is strictly prohibited.

Academic dishonesty can be defined as representing someone else's work as your own. It can take many forms, including plagiarism, sharing another's work, purchasing a term paper or test questions in advance, paying another to do the work for you, accessing someone else's academic work, etcetera.
